THE OLD DOMINION AND THE CRAVEN STATE.—We publish, to day, the proceedings of the House of Delegates, of Virginia, in relation to the removal of the deposits; and it gladdens our heart to see the high minded and patriotic adherence to principle evinced by the Legislature of that State which has given to the country such men as Patrick Henry, Washington, Marshall, and the Lees.

Truly, the vote on the resolution of Mr. Marshall is a proud event in the history of the Old Dominion. It is not at all surprising that Virginia should have obtained such a commanding influence in the Union, while her own course is directed by such patriotic and high minded men as represent her in her own legislature. The same brave spirit which animated Washington, and Henry, and the Lees, to resist the arbitrary encroachments of George the Third, in 1774, stimulates the Marshalls and Tazewells of the present day to resist and condemn similar acts of Andrew Jackson, in 1834.

George the Third had his loaves and fishes to buy up cheap patriots, in 1774, and Andrew Jackson has his foreign missions, his post office, and other appointments, to convince patriots in 1834. But the latter seem to operate as little in Virginia, in 1834, as the former did, in 1774. Her legislature now meets the crisis as firmly as her assembly did in 1775; and her Rives will now fare no better than her Lord Dunmore did formerly. He will not, to be sure, be compelled to resign his seat in the Senate, but he will have leave to retire to private life at the end of his term.

While we thus take pride in the noble course of Virginia we review with deep mortification and regret, the poor, miserable, pitiful, and sniveling course of our own poor, craven Pennsylvania.

Virginia, in 1775, resisted arbitrary power, in defence of mere principle—the tax upon tea was a trifle, not worth the gunpowder that was burned in resisting it—in 1834, she resists arbitrary power, in defence of principle; her interest being comparatively small in the question of the deposits. —But Pennsylvania, poor, craven Pennsylvania, gives up principle, gives up her National Bank, and risks her whole system of Internal Improvements, to win the smile of Andrew Jackson, or to get some miserable appointments for a few of her needy, hungry expectants of office.

Poor Pennsylvania seems doomed always to follow in the wake of some other State, her politicians are content to pick up a few of the scraps that are left by the more high minded and spirited men of other states. It was well, as she must follow, that she had placed herself under the guidance of the high minded, disinterested politicians of Virginia. She asked of her ward no direct sacrifice of her interests, all Virginia desired was the honor of ruling—the name of the "Old Dominion."

But our politicians are about chusing a new guardian; one which looks not only for honor, but for gain—one which aims not only to be the "Empire State," but to monopolize the whole commerce of the country, and to control the currency.

For this purpose she aims to elect her Van Buren to the Presidentship; for this purpose she labors to break down the present National Bank, as the first step towards getting one at New York, and for this purpose she would be glad to arrest the progress of our internal improvements to increase the business on her own; and the removal of the deposits, if submitted to, must advance each of those objects.

NOTICE TO FIREMEN.

At a Special Meeting of the 1st Pittsburgh Hose Company, on Monday evening last, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to invite the different companies belonging to the Firemen's Association, to appoint delegates from each company, for the purpose of conferring together on the expediency of petitioning the Legislature, relative to the incorporation of a Firemen's Insurance Company."

The undersigned, appointed in accordance with the foregoing resolution, respectfully request the presiding officers of each company to call early meetings of their respective companies, to carry into effect the object of the above resolution. It is desired that the delegates from each company should be appointed, and meet in conference during the present week, say on Saturday next.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN COLONIZATION SOCIETY.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21, 1834.

The annual meeting of the American Colonization Society took place last night in the Hall of the House of Representatives. The attendance of members and Representatives of the Auxiliary Societies, was uncommonly full. The venerable Chief Justice attended as the representative of the Colonization Society of the State of Virginia. The Hon. John C. Herbert, of Maryland, took the Chair, and called the meeting to order.

The Secretary, Mr. Gurley, read the Annual Report, from which it appeared that, during the last year, considerable acquisitions of Territory had been made for the Colony at Liberia, that its population, means of moral and intellectual improvement, and general prosperity, had, in the same times, increased to a satisfactory and encouraging extent. The Report also stated that during the year, the Society had labored under pecuniary embarrassments which were not yet relieved. Mr. Cresson's mission to England was noticed, and its results were stated to be highly advantageous to the interests of the Society.

On motion of Mr. Whittlesy, of Ohio, the Report was accepted and ordered to be printed. Mr. Finley, an agent of the Society, submitted a resolution looking to the prohibition of the importation and use of, and traffic in, ardent spirits in the Colony, which was agreed to. It appeared from Mr. Finley's statements, that Liberia was now the only practically temperate settlement on the face of the Globe, and that there was to be made, under the auspices of the Society, the first experiment of the absolute and entire prohibition by law of the use of ardent spirits.

Resolutions were offered and addresses delivered by the Reverend Mr. Speed, of Virginia, the Rev'd Mr. Breckenridge, of Baltimore, Gerrit Smith, Esq., of New York, Mr. Terry, of Hartford, Conn., Mr. Bacon, of New Haven, the Rev. Dr. Spring, of New York, Mr. Cresson, of Philadelphia, and the Hon. Mr. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey.

The utmost harmony and good fellowship prevailed among the member of the Society, though there were present members from every section of the country, some of whom were slaveholders and others favorable to abolition. Several of the speakers touched upon the subject of the opposition lately made to the Society, by the friends of abolition and by the slave owning interests; and all advanced the opinion that this Society was not the only channel through which the sympathies of the public for the black race could be expressed, or the public benificence exerted. The object of the Society was, what its Constitution professed, the Colonization of the blacks in Africa, and abolitionists and slaveholders might both unite in that object.

Mr. Gerrit Smith made a very spirited and excellent speech, and concluded with a resolution proposing to the friends of the Society, to raise, immediately, the sum of $50,000 for the use of the Society, to be paid in five annual instalments. Further, he backed his proposition by an immediate subscription of $5,000, for his own share. Several smaller sums were subscribed by other gentlemen. The Society adjourned to meet again this evening, at Mr. Post's Church, to transact business.

CONGRESS.

Friday, Jan. 24.—In the Senate, Mr. Webster presented the proceedings of a public meeting held in the town of New Bedford, in the state of Massachusetts.

Mr. Webster said, that New Bedford had been one of the most prosperous and fast growing towns in Massachusetts. Its citizens were engaged in a most useful, hardy, and adventurous commerce, in which they had met with much success; and, three months ago, their condition was flourishing and happy; but a sudden and most extensive reverse has happened to it. Thirty or forty failures are said to have happened, and great pressure and distress prevail. I feel it my duty, said Mr. W., to present these things to the consideration of the Senate.

If there can be either any faith in men's statements, or if facts be any proof, the pressure, so far from diminishing, is increasing. I am informed by undoubted authority, that in one of our cities, supposed to possess its full proportion of capital, money, for the best security, is not to be had for less than from twelve to eighteen per cent. per annum, nor in large sums even for that interest; and this very week, in another city, one of the largest and most flourishing in the Union, undoubted security could be had for money at three per cent. per month.

While we are talking about the danger of the moneyed aristocracy of the Bank, a state of things is suffered to exist which is a perfect carnival to the real moneyed aristocracy, if there be any such thing in the country. Capitalists, holding up their money for such enormous rates of interest, and being able to command such rates, shows what sacrifices are made by industrious men, of small capital, to protect themselves from absolute ruin. In many places, numerous workmen have been thrown out of employ, not only in the manufacturing establishments, but in the mines of some of the middle states. Indeed, if the information of the morning is correct, one of these states had suffered a great disappointment in failing to receive the instalments on its loans, according to contract, and was obliged to take other measures for supplying the means of carrying on its public works.

I take this occasion, Mr. President, to call again on gentlemen who may be supposed to know something of the purposes of the Administration, to know what their plan is? Have they any measures in readiness? Do they propose any relief? Or do they mean to leave it to the Secretary, and to the State Banks, to meet the crisis as they may?

I implore the sober consideration of gentlemen to this matter; and I shall feel it my duty to repeat the inquiry for such reasonable time, as that, in the absence of any answer, it may be fairly inferred that the Administration has no measures to propose.

Mr. Wilkins said he had a petition to present from a gentleman well known in the country, which presented that gentleman in a light somewhat new. The gentleman was one who was very notorious, and had been continually going about doing much good all over the land. It seems that the gentleman, some years ago, diverted his attention from immortal to mortal concerns, and had invented a medicine for the body, as well as the soul, for which he had taken out a patent. That patent was about to expire, and the petitioner asked that a law might be passed for its continuation, in consideration of the insufficient profits he had derived from it. His profits had not been sufficient, in the language of the gentleman himself, to make one hand wash the other. The petition, Mr. W. said, was signed "Lorenzo Dow."

On motion of Mr. Wilkins, the petition was then referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Poindexter observed that, on the 19th of last month, he had submitted a resolution, which was adopted by the Senate, calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for some very important information on the subject of the Public Lands; the answer to which had not yet been received. He felt bound, therefore, in order to have all the information, relative to the Public Lands, necessary for the action of the committee, before the Senate at as early a day as possible, to submit a resolution, inquiring of the Secretary why the answer to the call of the Senate had been delayed? And would ask of the Senate to consider it now. Mr. P. then submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury be directed to communicate to the Senate the causes, if any, which have prevented an answer to a resolution of the Senate, of the 19th day of December last, calling for certain information in relation to the public lands.

The immediate consideration of the resolution requiring unanimous consent, and Mr. Forsyth objecting, it lies on the table until Monday.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

The Deposit question in the House of Delegates.

The struggle was yesterday renewed in the House of Delegates, and the House again adjourned without reaching a final vote. In fact, they are at this moment, as far as ever removed from a termination, so far as the state of the question in the house is concerned.

Mr. Colston's motion to postpone, to 31st March, the whole resolutions, was pending, when the house took up the subject yesterday. At the request of Mr. Marshall, he withdrew that motion for the present, and that gentleman then offered the following new resolution.

Resolved, That the Assembly does not intend, by the declaration of its opinion, in regard to the constitutionality of the Bank of the United States, to qualify, or in any manner to impair, the force of its disapprobation of the removal of the deposits.

Mr. Roane moved to amend this resolution, as follows:

That they highly disapprove the manifold instances of misconduct which has marked the management and direction of the present Bank, and that our Senators in Congress are hereby instructed, and our representatives earnestly requested, to oppose all attempts which may be made to obtain a renewal of its charter, and to co-operate in passing all needful and proper laws to compel or to enable it to close its concerns in a manner least injurious to the currency of the country and happiness of the people.

After debate, this amendment was negatived.

Mr. Wagener then moved to amend Mr. Marshall's resolution as follows:

Nor to express an approval of the conduct of the officers of the Bank of the U. S., in their management of that institution.

This amendment, after debate, was also negatived.

Mr. Williams then moved to amend as follows:

Nor does it intend by the declaration of its opinion, concerning the removal of the deposits from the Bank of the U. States, to qualify or impair the force of its disapprobation of the exercise of the power by Congress to incorporate a Bank.

This resolution, after debate, was likewise negatived—ayes 62, noes 62.

Mr. Garland, of Mecklenburg, then moved to amend as follows:

Nor does the Assembly by any means intend to insinuate that the President of the U. S. has not the constitutional power to superintend and control the Treasury Department.

When this amendment was offered, it being late, the House adjourned, to give Mr. Garland an opportunity of expressing his views, to day.

Universal astonishment will no doubt be felt throughout the land, as it was in the House, that such a proposition as that of Mr. Garland's—a proposition claiming for the President the constitutional right to control the Treasury Department, should be seriously and solemnly offered, for the adoption of a Virginia General Assembly. When such a proposition is offered by a gentleman so intelligent and so respectable as its mover, it shows the unsettled state of principle, the wild work made by Jacksonism, and man worship, in the fundamental doctrines of the people, and that we are rapidly being engulfed in despotism.—For every man must see, that if the President has a right to control the public Treasury, the difference between the Federal Executive, and the Despotism of Russia or Turkey, exists in name and form, only.—Richmond Whig, Jan. 21.

Deposit Question in the House of Delegates.—The Resolutions on the subject of the Federal deposits, were yesterday finally passed by the House of Delegates. They go of course to the Senate, which will no doubt respond to the sentiments of the majority of the People of Virginia.

Mr. Garland's proposition being withdrawn, Mr. Williams offered the following:

That this General Assembly in connecting the expression of its opinion upon the subjects of the Federal Deposits, and the Bank of the U. States, does not thereby design to impair the force of its condemnation of the powers exercised over either of those subjects.

This was voted down.

Mr. M'Culloch then offered the following:

Nor does this Assembly intend, by any of the foregoing resolutions, to express the opinion, that the Deposits ought to be restored to the Bank of the United States.

This was also voted out by a decided majority.

Mr. Marshall's resolution was then adopted, 91 to 32.

Great was the repugnance which the administration party in the House had to face this naked resolution. Every expedient and Parliamentary finesse was practised, to pass the cup by. In vain. —The House resolved at last, to accept no amendment whatever, but to coerce an impression on the one point—Do you intend by voting the Bank unconstitutional, to mitigate censure upon the President, for removing the Deposits? Brought up to the ring, the House decided by an immense majority—91 to 32—that it did not mean, by the Bank resolution to qualify censure for removing the Deposits.—Even Messrs. Stevenson, Roane, Watkins, and Wilson, of Bot., were under the necessity of going it—that is of condemning the removal of the Deposits, in the strongest possible form. Mr. Stevenson of Spottsylvania, thus certainly verifies by his vote, what he declared on the floor—that he did not, by moving the bank resolution, mean to sweeten the cup of censure, commended to the lips of President Jackson—Fiat justitia ruat cælum. The Removal of the Deposits, as a high handed and illegal usurpation, thus stands condemned, by the House of Delegates, of Virginia, Ninety one to Thirty two. The 32 are chiefly transmontane, and some of them we know, (as for example, Mr. Williams of Orange,) decidedly condemn that act of the Executive.—Virginia thus gives the noblest proof of adherence to the maxim which others preach but do not practice.—Richmond Whig, January 22.

The Deposit Question has been finally acted upon in the Virginia House of Delegates. Our last notice of the state of parties there, showed a majority of one vote against reconsideration. The vote was equivalent to a refusal to disconnect the removal of the deposits from the constitutionality of the Bank charter. This vote was taken on Saturday. On Monday, a new attempt was made for the same object, in another form. The member from Richmond—who had voted against the reconsideration—was instructed by his constituents to change his vote, and accordingly renewed the same motion, which was again lost by a tie, 65 to 65. A motion was then made to postpone the whole subject indefinitely, which, on Monday last, was withdrawn. Numerous motions and amendments were proposed on that day, to include the management of the Bank in the vote of censure, which all failed. On Tuesday, we learn, by a letter in the National Intelligencer, the House finally adopted a resolution "rebuking the removal of the deposits," by a vote of 92 to 32; and rejected one, asserting that it was "not the wish of the House that the deposits should be returned," by a vote of 75 to 52.—Balt. Amer., Jan. 25.

The Loan.—The annunciation that the Messrs. Allen would not continue to supply the state with money, has led many to speculate on the course which the state would pursue in the difficult position in which it finds itself. Some, indeed many, have said that the remainder of the loan would be put up at auction, and the Messrs. A. held accountable to the state for the deficiency. This would indeed be a way of taking vengeance, as it is certain that the loan would go cheap enough.—But the state, we believe, cannot do this: it has no right to sell the loan: no such provision was included in the conditions. If the state sells it, it sells it at its own risk. Its only redress is a suit against the Messrs. A. for damages. How long such a suit would be in court, and what sort of a verdict a jury would render, knowing the state and cause of the depression in the money market, it is difficult to tell.—Those who know S. & M. Allen, know that nothing but a state of business in which a million's worth of property would not procure a hundred thousand dollars in cash, would cause them to hesitate upon the loan.—U. States Gazette.

If a transposition were suddenly made, viz. President Jackson and his Kitchen Cabinet constituted the board of the National Bank, and Mr. Biddle substituted for President Jackson at Washington, what would be the effect on the price of the Bank stock, and what on the mood of the country with regard to "the government?" Who could doubt that there would be a most lamentable fall of the stock, and a most joyful rise of confidence in political affairs? This truth shadows out the sad reality of things. If Congress and the People do not interfere to defeat the schemes and break up the supremacy of the Cabal, the Constitution, and what may be called the administrative and economical interests of the Union, will, when General Jackson shall leave his present station, be found as much disordered, dilapidated, ravaged, as would be the property of the stockholders of the Bank and the credit of the institution, if he, Messrs. Kendall, Blair & Co. were charged with winding up its concerns.—Nat. Gaz.

Those residents of Philadelphia who exert themselves for the destruction of the National Bank must be either very magnanimous patriots, or very recreant Philadelphians,—seeing the peculiar and great stake which our city has in its preservation.—Nat Gaz.

Some curiosity was excited in York last Thursday week by the arrival of a man in a sailor's dress, with a traveling machine, as he termed it. of his own construction. It is the velocipede principle, but an improvement upon those hitherto seen. A circle, just wide enough to admit the traveler's person, encompasses his waist, and to a horizontal shaft proceeding from each side of this circle are fixed a pair of wheels, light in their construction, and about 6 feet in diameter.—Close by the ring arise, to support the arms, two short crutches, which, with the circle, are cushioned and stuffed. The body is thus so supported that the feet can just point the ground to make a stroke, which puts the wheels in motion. The whole is directed by a lever, upon which the hands rest, and by this simple contrivance, the man says that, on a tolerably good road he can travel nine miles an hour with great ease. He was very expert in his motions, and guided the machine, as regarded turning and stopping, with facility.—York Herald.

The cargo of ice shipped about seven months ago for Calcutta, from Boston, has arrived safe, very little of the ice having melted.—Phila. Chron.

"AND SUCH AN AGENT."

"The words, the voice, the singling finger, and the reiterated applause of the gallery were annihileting—even the bronzed ingrate himself could not withstand it—he fled the hall while the auditors were yet echoing his shame."—Washington Letter.

Though shame had lost its sting and force,
He could not bear that stern rebuke,
He fled, his recreant soul's remorse
Gathered its strength—the traitor shook;
And then the burst, the lauding peal
Rang in his ears—'twas Satan's seal.

A thousand piercing glances bent,
On him, the fiend of recklessness,
Could not have torn his soul, or rent
His heart within its dark recess—
Could not have made his spirit quail
Like that stern voice, and answering hail.
It seemed as if the very hand
Had held an ever searing brand
To stamp his brow, and there he stood,
Black with the seal "Ingratitude." F.

Extracts from the review of the Philadelphia Market, for the week ending Friday evening, January 24.

The transactions of the week have been uncommonly small, and the sales made have been in small parcels, to supply immediate wants. The river is again obstructed by ice.

COFFEE—The sales have been very small this week. We note a sale of 25 bags Rio coffee at 12 cents cash; 20 bags do. at 12 1-4 cents, 4 mths.; 22 bags old white Laguayra, at from 12 1-2 to 13 1-2 cents; and 20 do. common do. at 12 1-4 cents, on time: 10 bags Java, at 14 cents. At auction, 100 bags Rio, (inferior) brought 11¾ cents cash, and 20 bags do. 11 1-2 cents, 90 days.

COTTON—Sales during the week have been made in lots to manufacturers. They are 91 bales Virginia and Louisiana at 11 to 13 1-2 cents, on time; 59 bales Uplands, at 11 to 12 1-4 cts., 4 mths.; and 12 bales inferior at 11 cents.

DOMESTIC GOODS—There is more enquiry for domestic goods. The spring business has not yet commenced, and we therefore continue our former quotations.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The quantity of flour in the hands of the factors is very limited.

Previous to the existence of Canals in Pennsylvania, all the Flour that reached, this City was hauled in wagons, except what was brought on the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill. Winter being the most convenient season for hauling, a heavy influx of Flour was the natural consequence, and the lowest prices consequently were received for it, during that period.

Our Canals have entirely reversed this state of things. Flour that by wagons formerly paid 140 to 150 cents carriage from Middletown, on the Susquehanna, is now brought by the canal from that place at 50 cents. From this cause, Flour is received by wagons in very limited quantities, and only from those sections of the State where canal or river transportation cannot be brought into competition. Now, unless there is nearly an adequate winter supply remaining on hand, at the close of the navigation in December, the price must be expected to advance during the winter, and thus give a deceptive impression of the probable spring market to farmers and millers.

This appears to be the case at present. At the close of the navigation the stock on hand was light. This stock, with the small supply coming in by wagons, is rapidly consuming, the probable weekly consumption being 5,000 barrels, including that worked into shipbread. In the spring, when the receipts by our rivers and canals commence coming in, the consumption price is to be ascertained by the export demand. The operation of the great pressure for money will then be felt, on the price of Flour, unless some new and unexpected market open abroad, where want will induce high prices to be paid, and thus attract capitalists to employ their means by the chance of unusual profits, in transmitting flour to such necessitous country, instead of employing it at the present current rates of 20 to 24 per cent. per annum, at home. The inducement under these circumstances to employ capital abroad must be very strong, and as we know of no possibility of such extra demand arising, it becomes apparent that the farmers and millers are to expect that the increase in the value of money, will produce a corresponding decrease in the price of bread stuffs, during the ensuing spring and summer.

Formerly the credit system aided in sustaining the price of flour. The practice was almost universal to sell to the exporting merchant on a credit of 3 to 4 months; the factor advancing the cash to the miller, and the miller to the farmer, and while money was worth only 6 per cent. per annum, and easily to be obtained, the exporting merchant was content to take the chances of loss or gain on the voyage, on the margin of a very small profit, based on prices at home and abroad. Now that the price of money has advanced to so high a rate, and is difficult to be obtained even at these rates, the factor can no longer, with safety, be the medium of affording facilities between the miller and the exporter. The latter being compelled to purchase for cash instead of credit, will only be induced to continue to export when tempted by prospects much larger than his usual gains.

The sales of the week for export have been—150 bbls. early in the week, and 300 bbls. yesterday, at $5 37 1-2 per bbl. By retail, the demand has been regular and steady at $5 50 per bbl., and some sales have been made at a fraction higher.—No sales of rye flour reported. 250 hhds. corn meal have been sold at $12 50 per hhd., and 100 bbls. at $2 75 per bbl.

SUGAR—Porto Rico sugar of good quality is scarce. Sales of 40 hhds. New Orleans, new crop, have been made at 8 to 8 1-4 cents, on time; 8 hhds. do. good, at 8 1-4, 90 days; 90 hhds. Muscovado, on terms not made known; 40 boxes white Cuba, at $9,00, 4 mths. At auction, 50 bbls New Orleans at $6 90 to $8 00; 15 bbls. inferior, do., $5 50 to $7 50; 10 hhds. 7 1-4, 4 mths; 36 bbls. white Havana, at $9 cash, and 400 loaves lump, at 11 3-4 cents, cash.

TEA—A sale of 60 chests Young Hyson, at 55 a 60 cents, 6 mths.; and at auction, 50 chests and 49 half do. Young Hyson, from 51 to 85 cents; 7 chests Pouchong, 35 cents, cash; 10 chests Pecco at 32 cents, 4 mths.

WOOL—The sales this week have been small—a lot of American clean common brought 40 cents, cash.

LOUISVILLE HOTEL.

THIS new and splendid establishment, situated on Main street, has been leased of the Louisville Hotel Company by the subscribers, for a term of years, and they feel no hesitation in saying that the entire arrangement of this Hotel, for extent of accommodation, elegance, and comfort, are not surpassed by any Hotel in the United States. Its location is pleasant and airy, and but a few moments' walk from the steam boats. The house contains nearly 200 apartments, most of which have fire places; and has a private entrance, leading to thirty suits of rooms, expressly arranged for the accommodation of families—has also seventy single lodging rooms. The establishment is furnished in the best modern style, and the Wines and Liquors have been selected with great care from the most celebrated vaults in New York and Boston. The proprietors, grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed on the different establishments they have been connected with in the eastern cities, hope, by their experience and personal attention, to gain for this Hotel a reputation equal to any in America. The Hotel was opened for the reception of transient and permanent boarders on the 1st of December.

Dec. 24. 44 Market street.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Franklin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞ A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

LOUISVILLE HOTEL.

THIS new and splendid establishment, situated on Main street, has been leased of the Louisville Hotel Company by the subscribers, for a term of years, and they feel no hesitation in saying that the entire arrangement of this Hotel, for extent of accommodation, elegance, and comfort, are not surpassed by any Hotel in the United States. Its location is pleasant and airy, and but a few moments' walk from the steam boats. The house contains nearly 200 apartments, most of which have fire places; and has a private entrance, leading to thirty suits of rooms, expressly arranged for the accommodation of families—has also seventy single lodging rooms. The establishment is furnished in the best modern style, and the Wines and Liquors have been selected with great care from the most celebrated vaults in New York and Boston. The proprietors, grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed on the different establishments they have been connected with in the eastern cities, hope, by their experience and personal attention, to gain for this Hotel a reputation equal to any in America. The Hotel was opened for the reception of transient and permanent boarders on the 1st of December.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved Balance, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Franklin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Frankiin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1	tract of land	containing	330 acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
other lots, containing about			6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county---and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others--- a soil rich and productive---the neighborhood abounding in coal---well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

im portant, as well to the revenue of the Commonwealth, as to the future wealth and prosperity of our commercial cities, is not to be secured but by timely and vigorous efforts. The Commonwealth, so far as she was concerned in the general welfare, has done her duty in constructing the public works; but it is not expected that she will line them with boats, or cover them with cars; this must be done, if done at all, by individuals or companies. The importance of securing the trade of the Western States, has for years past, attracted the attention of two of our most enterprizing and prosperous sister States, the one on the North and the other on the South, nor have the most strenuous and persevering efforts been wanting on their part to monopolize so important a branch of commerce. A policy on our part that would induce us to remain idle spectators when so much is at stake, would be altogether indefensible, especially when we have all the advantages of a central position: the shortness of our route: the advantages of earlier and later navigation of our canals: our mineral wealth and agricultural productions, all presenting a superiority of advantages and facilities in accomplishing the important object, which if early embraced and vigorously improved, will not fail to secure to our Commonwealth, a complete ascendency. To our merchants and others interested in securing a commerce so extensive as well as profitable, the necessity of prompt and efficient measures to have in readiness all the facilities and means for an active and energetic transportation upon our public works early in the spring, must be manifestly obvious.

For the amount in detail, of the appropriations that will be required to complete the unfinished works, and finish the rail roads with the necessary appendages to put them in operation, I must beg leave to refer you to the report of the board of canal commissioners.

With prospects so flattering, fellow citizens, in the very infancy of our public works, the friends of the internal improvement policy may rest satisfied that the day is not far distant, when Pennsylvania, encouraged by the success which has attended her public improvements; their continually increasing productiveness; the overflowing treasury, for which she will be indebted to the redundant revenues derived from that source; and threatened as she is, on all sides, to be deprived of that commerce which the God of Nature seems to have destined for her use, will in her own defence force the waters of Lake Erie to mingle with those of the Allegheny and the Delaware; the Ohio canal to become tributary to her own extensive improvements; the waters of the Cayuga and Seneca lakes, by means of the Elmira canal, to unite with those of the Susquehanna; & will cause the wilderness countries, drained by the improvements by which all this will be accomplished, to "smile and blossom as the rose." This may be regarded as fancy now, but it must become fact before long; and judging from "the signs of the times," it would not be surprising if it should all happen in our own day and generation, and be achieved by the force of public opinion itself.

The finances of the Commonwealth should always claim the attention of a vigilant Legislature; and a rigid scrutiny and examination into their condition, and the conduct of those to whose control and management they are entrusted, will not fail to be attended with beneficial consequences. The reports of the accounting officers will be laid before you, and will exhibit a most healthful and prosperous state of the revenue for the fiscal year, ending on the first of November, last. The receipts into the Treasury arising from the ordinary sources of income, will be found to have exceeded those of the last year to the amount of fifty-seven thousand, seven hundred and forty-four dollars and fifty-four cents, and after defraying the current expenses of the Government, a large amount of local appropriations, and restoring to the internal improvement fund the sum of one hundred and thirty-five thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven dollars and eighteen cents, which had been authorized by law to be taken from that fund for the payment of interest due in August, eighteen hundred and thirty-two, have left a balance in the Treasury, on the first of November last, of three hundred and sixty-seven thousand, four hundred and twenty-three dollars and thirty cents, to meet future contingent and other demands upon the Government. It is proper that I should state, for the information of the General Assembly, that three hundred and eighty thousand dollars, part of a loan of six hundred thousand dollars authorized by act of thirtieth March, eighteen hundred and twenty-four, will be reimbursable on the first of May next: such, however, are the gratifying assurances received from the heads of the financial departments, as to leave no doubt of the ability of the Treasury, without materially interfering with the numerous other demands upon it, to meet the occasion, and to reimburse to the holders of the stock, the amount of principal and interest that will then be due, without the necessity of resorting to a loan, or any other measure for that purpose. It affords me great pleasure to assure the General Assembly, that such are the cheering prospects in regard to the future redundancy of the revenues of the State, and the flattering evidences of continued accretion and increase, as to leave no doubt of the entire ability which will thus accrue to the Treasury, and enable it to meet the ordinary demands upon it as they shall hereafter arise.

As it is more than probable that the commissioners for revising the civil code will prepare and report a bill for the organization of the several courts, I shall forbear from urging the subject of the judicatory upon your attention at this time.

I received, during the recess of the Legislature, a communication from the Secretary of the Navy, in relation to the act of the last session, ceding to the United States jurisdiction over certain grounds and buildings belonging to the Navy Asylum, near the city of Philadelphia, to which I would ask the early attention of the General Assembly. Copies of the communication will be laid before you.

I have also received from the Governor of Massachusetts, communications accompanied by an act and resolution of the Legislature of that State, on the subject of lotteries; also a report and resolutions relative to a proposition for a convention of the States, to revise the Constitution of the United States; also a report and resolutions in relation to certain resolutions of the State of Georgia on the same subject,

A letter from the Governor of New Hampshire enclosing a resolution of the Legislatnre of that State, relative to an exchange of law reports.

A letter from the Executive of the State of Connecticut, enclosing certain resolutions of the General Assembly of that State, relative to the Tariff laws, and amendments of the Constitution of the United States.

A communication from the Governor of Maryland, enclosing certain resolutions of the General Assembly relative to South Carolina ordinances.

Also a communication from the Governor of the State of Mississippi, enclosing the proceedings of the Legislature of that State, upon certain resolutions of the Legislature of the State of Georgia, in relation to the call of a convention of the States, for the purpose of amending the Federal Constitution: Copies of all which, will be laid before you.

In closing this communication, allow me, fellow-citizens, to advert once more to the happy condition of our beloved country, and its incomparable institutions, and whilst I exhort you to watch with an untiring vigilance over the political rights of our own Commonwealth, reserved to her by the great charter of our liberties, permit me to invoke your patriotism and your zeal, and through you, that of our common constituents, in behalf of that unity of government which constitutes us one people; to implore you and them to rally round the Federal Union, as the palladium of our political safety and happiness; watching, in the language of the father of his country, "for its preservation with jealous anxiety, discountenancing whatever may suggest even a suspicionthat it can in any event be abandoned, and indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest, or to enfeeble the sacred ties which now link together the various parts."

Finally, in the discharge of your legislative duties, let me assure you of a hearty concurrence, on my part, in all constitutional acts and measures tending to the public good; and that you may be guided, in your deliberations, by that wisdom which cannot err, to the adoption of such measures as will do honor to yourselves and advance the prosperity and happiness of the people, is my sincere and fervent prayer.

GEO. WOLF.

Harrisburg, Dec. 4th, 1833.

From the Boston Transcript.

LATEST FROM LISBON.

Capt. Devereaux, of the ship Dromo, arrived at Boston on Tuesday morning from St. Ubes, which place he left on the 1st November. He reports that five days before he sailed, a Pedroite frigate and sloop of war landed their sailors at St. Jago, and drove out the Miguelites—so that Don Pedro had entire possession of the sea coast from Algarves to Oporto.

Messrs. Topliff have placed in our hands a file of Lisbon papers to the 26th of October, inclusive. They contain nothing of interest, except daily reports of the continued success of the Pedroites.—The forces of Miguel were besieged at Santarem, an isolated position, which they were soon obliged to abandon, according to a paper of the 25th, on account of the privations they endured—particularly a want of bread—although it is said they had large stores of wheat, but neither mills to grind it, nor wood wherewith to bake it.

The Queen had been proclaimed at Estremadura, and it was reported that Coimbra had declared in her favor. Every thing was going on well at Lisbon. Don Pedro had been confined a few days to the palace by slight indisposition, but had recovered and was as active as ever.

Lisbon, 19th Oct. 1833.—Since we wrote to you on the 9th instant, the army of Don Miguel has been attacked, beaten, and retreated about 50 miles from this, so that all the mills are now in the possession of Don Pedro—and as the quantity of wheat on hand is great, and more coming from the country daily, and large quantities of Flour arriving from England and France, we look daily for a decree rescinding the admission of Flour.

Your obedient servants.

J. P. HUCHINSON & CO.

The Mercantile Journal adds—"An expedition had gone up the river against Miguel, and this attack, together with Pedro's constant sallies from Lisbon, had routed the enemy so completely that they were not to be seen within 15 leagues of the capital. In fine, Capt. D. believes Don Miguel to be 'done up.' "

We are requested to state that the correspondence between Gen. Jackson and J. G. Bennett, Esq. in relation to the intrigues of Amos Kendall and his confederates of the Kitchen Cabinet, will appear in the Pennsylvania Inquirer of this morning.—Com. Herald, Dec. 6.
